FILMS

The World Is Waiting* (writer/director)

July 2025 — Music Video Assignment for School of Creative and Performing Arts

I was paired with a young songwriter and asked to create a music video for a song they had created during the camp. My teacher encouraged us to experiment with interesting edits and VFX as well as sound syncing and working with a client.

The Red Woods* (writer/director)

July 2025 — Short Film Assignment for School of Creative and Performing Arts

The Red Woods is a coming-of-age film about a young woman scared to leave her home when she is flooded every day with bad news. I tried to experiment with magical realism and worked on the pacing of my script. I also experimented with different angles and worked with a student crew and actors.

Fine* (writer/director)

July 2025 — Short Film Assignment for School of Creative and Performing Arts

Fine is a suspenseful film about a woman trying to get home but is faced with a man who wants to harm her. The assignment was to explore characters and motives. I worked with a student actor and operated the camera.

Adorkable* (writer/director)

March 2024 — Independent Short Film

Adorkable is about two young people who fall in love but are too awkward to properly express it or their identity. I got a group of my friends to act and permission from my school to film there. Everything was filmed using my iPhone's camera and microphone. It won an award at the Berkshire Student Film Festival.

WRITTEN WORKS

Rewind* (writer/director)

May 2025 — School Play

Rewind is about a teenage girl who is so upset with her life that she is transported to a sitcom. This is based on my own experience after losing my grandmother. I led rehearsals in March through May, culminating in three shows in the auditorium. I also oversaw the creation of the set, props, and costumes as well as oversaw the light and sound design and called the show in the tech booth.

Lights Off* (co-writer/co-director)

May 2024 — School Play

Lights Off is a comedic farce on classic whodunnits with kooky detectives and a tired policeman. After years of the traditionally student-led Spring Drama being run by various adult directors, a friend and I restarted the tradition and led rehearsals starting in March. We had three performances in the auditorium.

"He's Lost"* (author)

June 2024 — Short Story

"He's Lost" is about a man who wanders around town growing more and more confused until the cops are called on him. This was published by the school's literary magazine, The Gemini, and was illustrated by a friend of mine.
